DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as failing to set forth the subject matter which applicant(s) regard as their invention. The claim appears incomplete ("...at the predetermined [blank space] "), and lacks a period.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

4. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

5. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Art Unit: 2857

6. With respect to independent claims 1, 9 and 11, we see steps of a method which are not tied to a machine or anything tangible. The Examiner is required to interpret a claim during examination broadly but reasonably. Though it would be tedious, the steps recited therein are capable of being performed by a person via mental steps or using paper and pencil. A claim limited to a machine or manufacture which has practical application in the technological arts, is statutory. The Examiner sees no such explicit limitation to a machine or computer. See MPEP 2106.

7. As per dependent claims 2-6, 10, and 12, these claims do not tie or further limit any of the preceding claims from which they depend to a machine or computer or anything tangible. A claim limited to a machine or manufacture which has practical application in the technological arts, is statutory. The Examiner sees no such explicit limitation to a machine or computer or article of manufacture.

8. As per dependent claims 7-8, these claims refer to "a program for making a computer execute said processes" and "a computer readable storage medium storing the program." A claimed computer-readable medium encoded with a computer program is a computer element which defines structural and functional interrelationships between the computer program and the rest of the computer which permit the computer program's functionality to be realized, and is thus statutory. See MPEP 2106. There is no clear link or nexus between the claimed method steps of claim 1 and the program or computer or computer readable storage medium as recited in its dependent claims, claims 7-8.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See the attached PTO-892, most notably Miyata et al. ('491 B1).
